A PLACE IN THE SUN

Call it the dawn of a new season or the yearning for a season of indoor confinement to end. Whatever the reason, wanderlust with a healthy side of vitamin D is in the air. Restoration Hardware's new outdoor collection answers the call and then some, allowing us to channel the sunny vibes of the world's sexiest new seaside destinations without leaving our terraces—SPF not included.

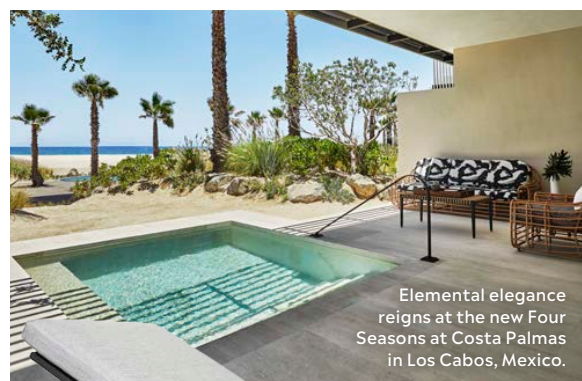

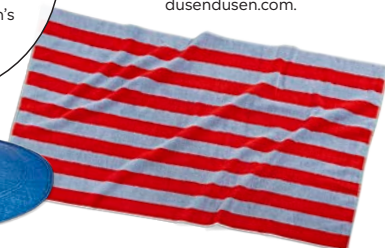

Designed with Neapolitan palazzo panache, Capri Palace, Jumeirah is set to reopen in April in Anacapri, Italy.

ANCIENT ART, REMASTERED

Japanese sudare screens, typically handwoven with bamboo, inspired the double-rope scrim in designer Anthony Spon-Smith's Capri teak chaise ($1,698; rh.com).

Peoni hat, $325; artesano.net.
Warm Stripe towel, $40; dusendusen.com.

Elemental elegance reigns at the new Four Seasons at Costa Palmas in Los Cabos, Mexico.

MODERN CRAFTSMANSHIP

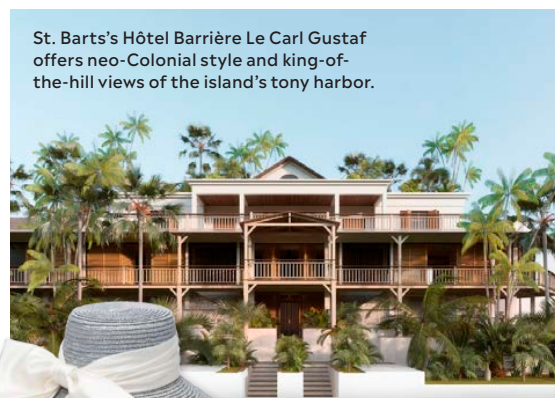

The open-weave construction of designer Louis Ho's Verona chaise ($1,346; rh.com) is a riff on traditional Hong Kong fishing nets rendered in all-weather rope.

Umida Ikat Madder beach towel, $75; johnrobshaw.com.

Alpargatas hat, $280; lolahats.com.

St. Barts's Hôtel Barrière Le Carl Gustaf offers neo-Colonial style and king-of-the-hill views of the island's tony harbor.

Annabelle hat, $465; eugeniakim.com.
Schumacher for Matouk Seashells beach towel, $95; matouk.com.

CLASSICAL REDUX

The Portofino teak chaise ($1,593; rh.com), also designed by Spon-Smith, channels Greek and Roman design with its strong, simple geometric forms.
