WITH ITS ULTRA LUXE COLLECTION,
RH ROLLS OUT THE RED CARPET WITH A PREMIER LINE OF HANDWOVEN RUGS.

WRITTEN AND PRODUCED BY BRITTANY CHEVALIER MCINTYRE

The right rug is a springboard for a space—setting the tone, palette and texture for a room. As such, the floor coverings in RH's latest Ultra Luxe collection set the bar high with rich textiles such as handspun silk, Mongolian cashmere, Peruvian Alpaca and pure New Zealand wool. Soft to the touch, these fabrics, along with premium linen, have long been synonymous with elevated apparel and home decor. The collection features pieces that are exquisitely hand-knotted from the most refined materials—ranging from 80- to 121-knot count per square inch—with a plushness that can be felt in the dense pile of each design. And just in time for the season, the cashmere collection is expanding with a shag addition, making this winter that much cozier.

RH's Ultra Luxe hand-knotted collection showcases the finest fibers available in a variety of colors, such as the Trouvé, Allura, Oscuro and Palais rugs (shown clockwise from top).
