TAKE IT OUTSIDE

Spring has officially sprung, and I think I can speak for everyone when I say that, after a long, cold winter, it's particularly refreshing to be able to enjoy the outdoors once again. And our editors have curated a spectacular Outdoor Issue of Modern Luxury Interiors New York just in time for the season.

We caught up with award-winning landscape designer Frederico Azevedo, whose work is featured on the cover of this issue, on his recent ventures and footprint in the Hamptons. Be sure to also check out our coverage of LaGuardia Design Group's recently published book along with a preview of some of the noteworthy projects chronicled in the new tome.

The creation of this issue only enhanced my excitement for the warmer months ahead and served as major home decor inspo—and I hope it does the same for you. Here are some of my favorite items for the season. Enjoy the issue!
