HOUSE PROUD

RH has opened RH Guesthouse New York, a first-of-its-kind hospitality experience for travelers seeking privacy and luxury. Accessed through a secure private entrance, the property features just six guest rooms, three guest suites and RH chairman and CEO Gary Friedman's private residence occupying the entire top floor, which is sometimes available for booking. Located in the Meatpacking District only steps from the RH New York gallery, RH Guesthouse occupies a restored and reimagined triangular loft building constructed in 1887. Each of the guest rooms and suites includes two full bathrooms clad in warm, vein-matched Italian travertine slabs, a freshly stocked gourmet pantry, in-room gym equipment and exclusive use of the private rooftop garden, pool and dining terrace. The décor features European oak, south-facing soundproof windows and architectural lighting, and the beds are by Dutch brand FreshBed, a scientifically designed bed system that regulates air quality, temperature and humidity for optimal sleep. "The RH Guesthouse has been designed through a lens of privacy and luxury," says Friedman. "We believe privacy is going to become a large and important market, and the RH Guesthouse has an opportunity to define that new market with a before-unseen level of design, quality and hospitality." The Dining Room & Terrace serves wood-grilled dishes like Australian Wagyu ribeye, rotisserie chicken and a wood-grilled avocado topped with 15 grams of Petrossian Imperial Kaluga Caviar. The Champagne & Caviar Bar, located in the Guesthouse cellar, is a 32-seat experience serving the highest grades of Petrossian caviar and a curated list of some of the world's finest Champagnes.
