

10 Of London's Best Restaurant Terraces For Summer 2026

From a Vivienne Westwood themed terrace and one inspired by the Lost Gardens of Heligan to a terrace named after the late Queen, here are 10 al fresco London dining options you must try.

With summer now in full swing, these are the places to book for long lunches, sunset drinks and memorable meals outdoors. From seafood institutions and chic hideaways to fun new openings, each terrace is a decent size and combines a distinctive setting with excellent food, making the most of London's increasingly longer (and hotter) alfresco season.

9. The Perch, RH London, Mayfair

The Perch at RH London, Mayfair
MARK SEELEN

Newly opened RH London has a gorgeous rooftop garden, The Perch, where guests dine beneath grand glass birdcages designed by Anouska Hempel, legendary designer and godmother of the boutique hotel. The menu features classics and signature dishes so loved at other RH locations including lobster rolls, Chinese Chicken Salad and Crispy Artichokes, served with rosemary and lemon aioli.