

House Beautiful

I Saw These 9 Standout Design Moments at Milan Design Week—and They'll Be Setting the Trends in 2026

These are the spaces, products, and collaborations that caught our attention.

BY CARISHA SWANSON | PUBLISHED: APR 30, 2026

RH Milan

RH

RH doesn't just open stores—they take over entire city blocks in buildings that often have amazing facades, but that are looking for an interior rebirth. You've seen it in New York and Paris, and London is next. Each one becomes a full expression of the brand and the location.

Milan definitely hits those marks. Surrounded by some of the city's best hotels and boutiques, it carries that same ease, more relaxed, but equally cool, unmistakably fashionable, and more in step with how people live there. You move room by room, with some spaces feeling grand and others more tucked away.

April 30, 2026

RH

The RH restaurant is housed in a greenhouse-style restaurant on the lower level, a mini Bar Basso is tucked away, ready to offer you an Aperol spritz, with the full extension of the RH world there to tease you—from interiors to yachts. In this space, you can treat yourself to a piece of the lifestyle.